Christendom's symbol of Eastertide, above, stands on the south bank of the Carmel River where it enters the ocean. It commemorates the placing of a cross there two centuries ago by Spanish explorer, Gaspar de Portola.

In 1769, Portola left Baja California, to explore Monterey Bay discovered by Sebastian Vizcaino 167 years before. Portola and his party, which included Padre Juan Crespi, searched in vain for the bay although they reached its shore by marching west from the Salinas Valley.

In July, the party camped at San Jose Creek after following the shoreline from Monterey.

Scouts were sent south of Point Lobos but reported such a precipi-

West's Top Rugby Teams Vie For Championship Here This Weekend

Rugby action returns to Carmel with the Ninth Annual Monterey Rugby Tournament on Saturday and Sunday. This colorful event brings together the West's top 16 teams to settle the unofficial "West Coast Championship." Sixty-four games of rugby will be played with three fields in continuous use on Middle School grounds on Carmel Valley Road, east of Highway One. Play will begin at 8 a.m. each morning and run until 5:30 p.m. Tickets, $1.50, will be available on the grounds.

The 1967 tournament has developed into a real meeting of champions. Four invitational tournament champions will be vying for the Monterey crown. This win represented victories over a field of top European teams. Piedmont Gap Rugby Club won the Catalina Island Tournament last spring. The fourth champion in the Monterey field is the defending title holder, Long Beach Rugby Club.

Top college teams entered in the Monterey competition considered as potential titlists include three time winner Stanford, University of Southern California, University of California at Davis and Sacramento State College.

Other teams rounding out the invitational field are the University Club of San Francisco, the Peninsula Ramblers ,San Francisco State, Los Angeles Rugby Club, Cupertino Rugby Club, Occidental College, Santa Clara, and San Francisco Rugby Club.

She has starred in many productions on the Peninsula and elsewhere, often in a vehicle chosen especially for her talents.

The young lovers are Bill K. Houle as Mortimer and Eliane Yates as Elaine. Houle was a fixture at the old Wharf Theatre with a long string of credits. Mrs. Yates made her Peninsula debut as Philia in "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" after playing elsewhere as Maria in "The Sound Of Music."

Don Chambers in the Boris Karloff part of Jonathan has done leads with the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera, San Francisco Opera and Sacramento Music Circus. He was recently seen as Miles Gloriosus in "A Funny Thing" at the Studio.

Robert E. Costen (Teddy), a teacher at Seaside High, has taken part in productions as far away as Panama. Elroy Naczek (Dr. Einstein) assumes the role played by Peter Lorre in the movie version. After attending Actor's Workshop in San Francisco, he appeared at the Wharf, First and Circle Theatres here.

George A. Smith (Dr. Harper) has been active with the First Theatre and the old Polo Field Theatre. He appeared in "Born Yesterday" and "A Shot In The Dark" for the Circle.

John Sullivan (Mr. Gibbs) is a veteran of vaudeville and theatre. He has appeared in such shows as "Disraeli," "First Lady," "Hobson's Choice" and "Where's Charley?"

Alumni of Studio productions of the past season are Bob Lotz (Lt. Rooney) who played Ben Hubbard in "The Little Foxes" and has just finished as Inspector Levine in "Catch Me If You Can," Ed Shinbrot (Officer O'Hara) has appeared as Lycus in "A Funny Thing" and as Mayor Crane in "Never Too Late," Neil Kaye (Officer Klein) who was Sidney in "Catch Me If You Can" and Weber Buckham who took the part of Mr. Foley in "Never Too Late."

Duke Everts (Mr. Witherspoon), last seen as the father in "The Miracle Worker" at the Circle, draws on a theatrical background ranging from Mississippi River show boats to movies and burlesque.

After its Saturday opening, "Arsenic And Old Lace," which ran 1,444 performances on Broadway, is scheduled to play Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights at the Studio through April. It is under the direction of Michael Keller with setting and lighting by Bob Evans, Jr. Reservations for dinner and show or show alone may be made by calling 624-1661 or 624-2321.

My Most Interesting Trip

INTO THE STONE AGE

by Marcia F. De Voe

"At a time when astronauts have orbited the earth and scientists plan conquests of the planets, one corner of the world still competes with space for men's imagination — New Guinea. Here live people who never saw a wheel until it dropped to them from the skies on an airplane during World War II. Soon it will be too late to see this pristine beauty." These words of the editor of the National Geographic Magazine rang in my ears, clouded my dreams. Too late? I must not wait! Soon — After much reading and planning this unforgettable trip was a reality.

I enplaned from Brisbane, Australia, and as we winged northward, I recalled some of the data I had devoured. The western half of New Guinea is under the Dutch and the eastern half, into which I was to travel, is a territory of Australia. The many "patrol officers" on the plane, who were going up for duty, were outstanding in their white shirts, Burmuda shorts and white knee socks. They were to prove quite a contrast to the ebony black skins of the natives.

New Guinea served as a buffer island during World War II, to ward off Japanese air attacks that were heading for the north coast of Australia. It is the third largest island in the world.

As we landed at Port Moresby, a large group of American military planes were in evidence, as we still maintain a large defensive base there. The hot climate of the coastal port was thick and humid and as I got cleaned up for dinner in my hotel a sheet of tropical rain dropped out of the heavens like a bomb, completing the scene. I could hear its heavy pounding outside the louvred windows and feel the tropical breeze blow my skirts as I descended the wide staircase to the dining room where I was privileged to meet and talk with the Director of Native Affairs, Keith McCarthy. He was recovering from a recent snake bite and is one of many hardy Scots who have come to Australia and then up to New Guinea to try to do a job that is almost unbelievable.

What people on earth have been asked in the last 15 years to come so far and so fast in so little time?

The natives in the highlands still practice headhunting. A man is brained by a stone axe and then, after eating the flesh (which tastes like pork, I am told) his head may be used for a pillow, in order that his wisdom be transmitted to his murderer, or it may be worn about the neck of his wife as an ornament. Thousands of these natives, of whom there are at least two million, speak over 700 dialects and don't know a white man exists. Many of them who have come into contact with civilized man have developed a "cargo cult" or worship of the airplane. This is the area where Nelson Rockefeller's son was lost. Tribesmen range in size from tiny pygmies to giants. Some are Melanesian in origin, others very negroid and many that I saw reminded me of the Ethiopians and the lost tribes of long ago.

Leaving Port Moresby the next morning, I boarded a DC3 to head for the beautiful, lush high country of five and six thousand feet—the land "that time forgot." There were five passengers—an Australian doctor and his wife, a nurse from the seacoast town, a native and myself. We sat on a long bench, on one side of the plane, like paratroopers. There were straps that acted as seat belts but if you ever have been in the conventional seat of a DC3, you know full well how tipped you are from nose to tail until you are airborne. So, sitting sideways, we were "hanging on with our seats and our toes," as we waited to take off. Across from us, tied down with ropes was our meager luggage, an airplane propeller, boxes of canned goods, salt, and some bright shiny metal axes.

We climbed over spiny ridges and passed forbidding peaks into the highlands and glided into small valleys defying the tree tops. We were learning the full meaning of "bush pilots." Good ones ours were, too. They had to be! Our first stop was in a clearing to pick up an albino who was suffering from cancer. He was one of the pygmy size, practically blind and a most pitiful figure. The nurse aboard took him in custody to take him back to the hospital at Port Moresby. She had come specifically to get him.

The pilot invited us to come for-

MARRIED IN GERMANY

An old fashioned wedding in Germany, ice skating in Vienna and the ruins of Pompeii were all part and parcel of the trip from which Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Scheffer and their two children, David and Ann, have recently returned.

The main reason for the trip was the fact that their oldest son, Fredric, who is a Carmel High School graduate and has been in Germany for the past several years, was getting married.

Fredric and his bride to be, Gisela Wulkow, met the Scheffers in Frankfurt and took them to Dillenburg where the wedding took place. Fritz works for the Wulkow Company and is one of their top salesmen, no mean accomplishment as he did not speak a word of German when he first arrived in the country, and now both speaks and writes very well in that language.

As there are two services for weddings in Germany and the Scheffers had just time to get acquainted with Gisela's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Wulkow, before the civil service was performed on January 6 in the city hall. After this ceremony, the Wulkows gave a full sitdown reception for 40 close family members and friends in their home.

On the following day, the traditional church service was performed in a centuries old edifice. "All the mothers and grandmothers were crying and the whole thing was truly beautiful. Ann, Fritz's little sister, was the flower girl and was so excited and happy that she could take part in the wedding," Mrs. Scheffer stated.

After the service, a reception was held in a small town about 30 miles away for over 150 people and then another "small" sit-down dinner for about 40 close friends was held at the Wulkows' home after the reception.

"If this wasn't enough, we were invited to breakfast the next morning at Gisela's home and again it was for over 30 people" Mrs. Scheffer reported. "I have never seen so much food in my entire life and it was all wonderful."

The breakfast over, everyone said farewell to Fritz and Gisela as they left for a two-week honeymoon in Southern Spain and Morocco.

The Scheffers then went to Denmark to visit old friends and came back to Dillenburg in time to see Fritz and Gisela return and spend a few more days with them before going on to Vienna where David and Ann ice skated for the first time. "So did we" Mrs. Scheffer said, "and we were surprised that we could still do it after almost 30 years."

On to Rome and a day spent touring the ruins of Pompeii and then to Lisbon of which city Mrs. Scheffer said "In the summer it must be the most beautiful spot in the world."

London and Paris were also visited by the Scheffers and then it was back home to Carmel where the children are back in school and the rest of the family is just beginning to relax and look back over the wonderful time that was had by everyone. "It was a splendid experience for the children and Eugene and I had such an enjoyable time. We are so happy for Fritz and Gisela and were so glad to be able to be present for their wedding" Mrs. Scheffer said.

Plan Spring Wedding

Mrs. Elizabeth Wilhelm of Carmel has announced the engagement of her daughter, Ann Elizabeth (Anita), to Leland George Hare, son of Mrs. Chester Hare, also of Carmel.

Anita is a graduate of Carmel High School and has been attending the College of Santa Fe. Her father is David J. Wilhelm, a former local resident who is now on an engineering assignment. She has two sisters, Patricia and Paula, both of Carmel and is the granddaughter of Mrs. Carl Wilhelm of San Diego and Mrs. John MacNab of Florida.

A native of Carmel, Lee attended Sunset School, the Lycee Jacaard at Lausanne, Switzerland, and graduated from Desert Sun at Idylwild. His father was the late Dr. Chester Hare of Carmel. Following his graduation, Lee spent a year hitchhiking around the world, and, since his return, has been attending Monterey Peninsula College.

Lee's brothers are Donn Hare, Richard Masten, Warren Masten, James Hare and Edwin Hare. His sister is Mrs. George Economakis (Gay Masten) of Athens, Greece.

He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. George Taylor of Boston, Massachusetts, and the late Lou C. Hare of Monterey. Mrs. Eleanor T. James of Pasadena is his aunt.

A wedding sometime this Spring is planned by the young couple.

MARRIED IN DENVER

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lunt of Pebble Beach have announced the marriage of their daughter, Carolyn, to Lillard Boyd Harrelson. The candlelight ceremony took place on March 3 in the Whitley Chapel on the campus of the Colorado Woman's College in Denver. The service was performed by Doctor William Green.

Carolyn chose Karren Sue Rittel as her maid of honor and Boyd had his good friend, Robert Slycord, as his best man. Following the wedding, the bride's parents gave a champagne dinner in the beautiful Red Slipper Room of the Cherry Creek Inn in Denver.

Boyd is the son of Mrs. L. P. Harrelson and the late Mr. Harrelson of Clinton, Oklahoma. He is a graduate of the Clinton schools and served in the United States Air Force before attending the University of Denver.

Carolyn, who attended grade school in Carmel, is a 1962 graduate of Pacific Grove High School and attended Colorado Woman's College in Denver, Colorado.

Both Carolyn and Boyd are working for the Missile Manufacturing Company in Denver and are planning to make their home there.

PG&E's water wonderland.

More than 100 lakes for electricity... also provide recreation, irrigation, other benefits

Each year, runoff in many Northern and Central California mountain streams is captured and stored behind PG&E dams—forming scenic lakes for fishing, boating, camping and swimming.

This water turns the generators that make a lot of your PG&E electricity. Then it flows on for use by you and others in countless ways. Stored water is one of California's most precious resources.

Conservation is a PG&E Policy

From the McCloud River in the Cascades to the Kings River in the Sierra Nevada 300 miles south, PG&E's waterpower system includes more than 100 man-made lakes.

In addition to water conservation, we conserve the soil, trees, fish and wildlife on these properties—which we make available for your use and enjoyment. Our properties are open to all except in a very few instances where public safety prevents it.

Campground and Picnic Areas

In many popular recreation areas we have provided campgrounds to encourage maximum use of PG&E lands for recreation. These facilities include tables, benches, stoves, refuse containers and restrooms. They're set up in areas that we care for like parks. And you're invited to use them.

To guide you to these campgrounds and picnic areas, we have published a free booklet with a map and descriptions of facilities at each location. It's called "Your 1967 Guide to PG&E Campgrounds and Picnic Areas." Ask any PG&E office for a copy.

PG&E Fishing Reports

Our releases of stored water for power generation help maintain stream flows throughout the summer. Many good fishing streams would be dry in summer and fall except for upstream storage for power generation.

Each week during trout season, our local hydro system employees provide a reliable report on stream conditions on dozens of watersheds as a free service to weekend anglers. This report is made available through more than 230 newspapers, radio and TV stations, outdoor publications and many sporting goods stores in Northern and Central California.

Biggest Family Bargain

Providing you with recreation facilities is a pleasant sideline to our main job of supplying you with high quality gas and electric service at the lowest possible rates.

You're probably using more appliances and conveniences than ever before, so your bill may be higher. But there have been five reductions in PG&E gas and electric rates since 1963, so PG&E energy is still the biggest bargain in your family budget.

FESTIVE EASTER FARE

This rolled Easter veal roast contains a couple of flavor bonuses that don't show in the picture. Stuffed green olives have been inserted in slits throughout the roast, and as the meat cooked, it was basted with dry white wine. The same wine is poured as the dinner beverage.

EASTER SUNDAY DINNER

Easter Sunday, or any other day when the feeling is festive, is the time to serve a veal roast especially dressed for Spring. The usually bland flavor of the meat is then accented with stuffed green olives, dry white wine and herbs. When it appears on the Easter Sunday table, it is accompanied by fresh asparagus, tender baby carrots, new potatoes and glasses of the same wine used for the flavoring.

There's nothing so refreshing as a lovely centerpiece of wild flowers with decorated colored Easter eggs and tiny fluffy toy chicks to carry out the theme. A delicious green soup is already in front of each place but served very hot at the last moment. And here is the full menu for your gala dinner prepared as much in advance as possible and served at one o'clock after church.

EASTER SUNDAY DINNER
Fresh Iced Relish Tray
Spring Spinach Soup
Roast Veal Chablis
Mushroom Sauce
Fresh Asparagus
New Potatoes Carrots
Fresh Strawberry Shortcake
Chablis Wine Coffee

Spring Spinach Soup
(Serves 8)

Two tbsps. vegetable oil; 1 minced white onion; 1½ tbsps. cornstarch; 3 cups milk; 2 cups undercooked frozen chopped spinach; salt, grated nutmeg, paprika, white pepper, lemon slices, minced chives.

Heat oil gently in saucepan; add onion and cook until only slightly limp. Stir in cornstarch and brown lightly with onion. Add spinach to milk and whir together in blender or whip with rotary beater. Bring just to boiling point in top of double boiler over hot water. Season to taste and serve very hot in cream soup cups; garnish with lemon slices rolled in minced chives. Serve cheese straws with this excellent soup.

Roast Veal Chablis
(Serves 8)

One boned and rolled 6 lb. leg of veal; 24 pimiento-stuffed small green olives; 1½ cups Chablis or other dry white wine; powdered marjoram, garlic salt and coarsely ground pepper to taste.

Have butcher bone, roll and tie veal roast; with thin-bladed sharp knife make slits all over meat and push an olive into each slit. Place roast in shallow roasting pan and pour wine over meat. Allow to stand about 3 hours at room temperature, turning meat occasionally. Rub roast with marjoram and seasonings. Roast in 325 F. oven 40 minutes per lb., basting often with more wine and drippings in pan. Let roast stand 20 minutes before slicing with very sharp (or electric) carving knife. Tender Spring lamb may be rolled and prepared in the same way. Serve with a mushroom sauce.

Mushroom Sauce

Saute 2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms in butter. Add ½ cup Chablis, or other dry white wine, and simmer 5 minutes. Add 1½ cups chicken or beef broth, or 1½ cups hot water and 2 boullion cubes. Blend 1½ tbsps. cornstarch with 2 tbsps. cold Chablis and add to mushroom mixture. Cook, stirring until sauce boils gently. Skim off and discard excess fat from pan drippings of roast. Add drippings to sauce. Season to taste with A-1, Worcestershire or Kitchen Bouquet if desired. Serve very hot in gravy dish, or better still, from a thermos-controlled bowl as the meat needs a piping hot gravy.

Later in the evening, if you care to make up a foursome of bridge, after the children have finally called it a great day, serve this delicious but simple supper right at the card table.

Crab Crepes Celeste

Basic Batter: 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour; 1 tbsp. sugar; few grains salt; 3 beaten eggs; 1 cup milk; 2 tbsps. melted butter; 1 tsp. rum flavoring; extra melted butter for skillet.

Mix and sift flour, sugar and salt. Stir in eggs. Add milk slowly, while stirring, and stir until smooth. Add butter and flavoring. Let stand 2 hours. Melt ½ tsp. butter in 7-inch skillet; pour in a thin layer of batter. When set and brown on underside, turn and brown other side (about 1 minute on each side.) Repeat until batter is used. Fill with creamed canned Alaska King crabmeat, using slightly diluted canned cream of mushroom soup seasoned with sherry. Spread over each crepe; run under broiler to glaze and brown lightly. Roll up crepes and serve from chafing dish with pickled peaches and plenty of coffee.

Art News . . .

An exhibit of the work of artists who attended Richard Yip's outdoor watercolor workshop will be held tonight, 6:30 to 9 p.m. in the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art's workshop-lecture room at Sunset Center.

Professional artists as well as beginners have come to the Monterey area for many years during Easter week to paint the Peninsula scenery with this widely recognized watercolorist-teacher whose home is in Stockton.

Refreshments will be served and the public is invited to attend.

The 1967 board of directors of the Carmel Art Association invites area artists to submit three mounted drawings and three paintings (sculptors three pieces). Work should be brought to the gallery, Sixth and Dolores, between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m., on April 11.

On April 12, all paintings and sculpture submitted will be previewed with care. The artists whose work is considered outstanding will be asked to submit more work, and from this group artists will be selected as future members of the Carmel Art Association. Notice will be given of the final preview.

All paintings submitted must be picked up from the association April 13 before 5 p.m. Area artists applying for membership must live within 35 miles of Carmel and have been a resident for one year. Forms for application are available at the gallery.

Currently showing at the Galerie de Tours is an exhibition of Anton van Dalen's precisionist work.

Van Dalen comes from a Dutch family that has traditionally been involved in the arts for many generations. He was born in The Hague, Holland, in 1927 and attended the Royal Academy of Art there, as did his father before him. Van Dalen, the elder, also taught art all his life in the Dutch capital city.

Anton, the younger, came to the United States in 1956 and worked first in graphic design, then moved into painting as a professional. He subsequently was commissioned to do five murals in gold leaf for David's Shalom in San Francisco as well as a series of other intricate works that made full use of his unique style.

Precisionist works have fascinated painters for centuries, but the requirement for rigorous attention to detail and spirit has usually discouraged most of them quickly. Van Dalen has the necessary temperament and the requisite early exposure in Holland, where this type of painting has been popular for hundreds of years.

ART SHOW IN ITALY

The photograph of Irene Lagorio, above, was taken by Edgar Bissantz in front of a large photo mural in her Carmel studio. It is a study of the domed ceiling of the Palazetto dello Sport in Rome, designed by the internationally famed Italian architect-engineer Pier Luigi Nervi. Miss Lagorio's studio is the former Forest Hill School, a property she purchased from Barnet Segal.

Irene Lagorio who creates in many media, both in Carmel and the San Francisco Bay area, recently completed 17 large paintings and 12 serigraphs for a one-man show of her work at the Galleria D'Arte "Pro-Padova" in Padua, Italy, scheduled to open April 20. Miss Lagorio will fly to Padua to attend the opening.

The paintings comprise a series based on the theme "Sea and Stars." Included are the artist's interpretation of surf at Carmel Point, and an abstract presentation of Point Lobos. Another, "Night of the Falling Stars," records the astronomical phenomenon, the Leonids, which occurred in the fall of 1966. One 25 foot square canvas, named "Night of Orion," depicts the magnitude and brilliance of the constellation in abstract form.

Two paintings reminiscent of the artist's travels through Italy are "Two Cities on the Adriatic," and "Journey Through Italy." A gay and colorful collage made up of souvenir museum entrance tickets and other momentos of her travels in Italy, invokes memories of joyous personal experiences.

While in Padua, Miss Lagorio will visit Professor and Mrs. Henry J. Lagorio, who have been in residence in Padua for several years. Professor Lagorio, who is the artist's brother, is director of the University of California's overseas campus in Italy.

Watercolors by students of Helen B. Dooley will be exhibited on Saturday at Sunset Center, 7-9 p.m. The show will represent work work done by approximately 18 students during the Easter week session. It will be hung in the former cafeteria, situated downstairs at the end of the corridor in the north building opening off San Carlos Street. Refreshments will be served.

The work of a young Carmel Valley craftsman, Denis Wagner, is included in California Crafts V, a show co-sponsored by the Creative Arts League and the E. B. Crocker Art Gallery of Sacramento. A total of 104 designer-craftsmen under 30 years old are exhibiting at the gallery. The show will be open to the public through April 23.

A new show of members' work opened at the Carmel Art Association galleries last week. Five paintings are exhibited in the entrance and a collection of 25 paintings in the main exhibition room. Also on display is the work of eight sculptors. Nine painters have pictures in the association's small gallery. A memorial exhibition of the work of Richard Lofton is in the Beardsley Room.

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Chandler Meloy

TWENTY MAKE FACULTY HONORS

The fourth grading period, sandwiched between the Christmas and Easter holidays, still showed some 81 boys making the Honor Roll, with 20 achieving Faculty Honors of 95.0 or better.

Arlene Chase of Pebble Beach again led the Lower School, also the entire school, with a perfect score of 100.0, his fourth in a row. Terry Talbot led the high school with 99.40.

Each class had a strong showing on the Honor Roll, with the Freshmen again "showing the way" with 21, followed by the Sophomores with 19. The Seniors just edged the Juniors out by 17 to 15. The Lower School (with only 24 boys) had 8 on the Honor Roll.

Not to be discouraged, some 52 boys just missed the Honor Roll by 3.0 or less, so they will have a real strong opportunity to move up in the fifth grading period.

VACATION, BUT NOT ALL REST: Rain dampened the baseball debut against Monte Vista and Pat Rauber is keeping that pitching arm wrapped all during vacation. The swimmers dropped their opener to Serra, 69-23, with a great swim by Brad Witmer, as well as stellar performance by Jim Merritt, Tim Shea and Jeff Smith along wih Pete Cowden and Pete Stremmel.

But all is not vacation for the riding team or the forensic team. Entering the Fresno Invitational Riding Show this weekend will be Captain Mason Phelps, Larry and Gerald Grant, Martin Mooney, Taj Drobek, Denis Simard and John Bosse. Phelps won this show last year and, along with Coach Norman Ellis will enter the adult division, while the rest of the boys will enter as an RLS team. Horses and riders from all over California, but mainly from the South, will be entered along with some 13 from the Pebble Beach area.

Don Stillwell tackles the Lions Club regional speech contest tomorrow representing the Carmel Lions club, along with Phil Fleming, whose home is in Carmel Valley, for the Carmel Valley Lions. This will be Stillwell's second year as the winner of the Carmel contest.

AT WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

George C. Bestor of Carmel recently attended a Meet Your Congressman Conference for engineers in Washington, D.C. The two-day meetings were sponsored by the Consulting Engineers Council, the national organization for engineers in private practice.

Into The Stone Age

ward, one at a time, to the cockpit and have a look at the formidable terrain we were flying over. He informed us that the reason we were circling over this particular section was because they had taken a missionary in there the week before and could expect a hurried call if things had not gone as hoped. No call today! We went on!

The airstrips were nothing more than cleared fields and as we stopped at one of these, I decided to get out and stretch my legs. Immediately out of the bush came the most fascinating people I have ever seen. Their beautiful, lean, brown, bodies were covered with pig's grease to make them glisten in the sun. Leaf or bilium net sarongs covered the lower half of their figures and their pierced septums held bones and teeth of animals. A few had small skins of animals also as adornment. (Skins are very prized possessions as there are very few small animals and some claim this reason for the lack of protein in the diet and the need for human meat.)

Later at a "sing-sing," where many of the young women of the tribes were being bartered for, I saw the magnificent plumed feathered headdresses made of the wings and tail feathers of the birds of paradise. The ceremonial painted bodies and faces were adorned with red, yellow and blue dyes and ochres. Crescents of mother of pearl adorned their breasts and, in addition to the bones through their noses, they wore bailer shells on their foreheads and chests. I saw women making the bilium nets and baskets in a manner similar to tatting; watched them bring to the outdoor markets the huge yams that are slowly becoming the main stay of their diet in addition to peanuts. I saw a few pigs that the Australian patrol officers are introducing as a substitute for the taste of human flesh.

Yes, it was a most unforgettable trip. One hard to realize you've been on, unless you have the photographs you took to remind you and the dream of those two "bushmen" who wandered out of the edge of the jungle as you walked along. You can still see the bone knives stuck in their grass arm bands and the look in their eye that you'll never forget — almost like the one we have when we look at the white meat on the turkey on Thanksgiving Day.

What's Going on Here?

by B. ROWE

CARMEL FOUNDATION TOWN HOUSE

There will be a tour to Lake Tahoe May 4-6. This will include a trip to famous Virginia City. More details will be given later.

A shopping trip to Valley Fair in San Jose is scheduled for April 20 —time: 8 a.m. There will be ample opportunity to shop since the bus does not start back until 4 p.m.

At the annual Carmel Foundation meeting on March 15, members reelected President George O. Carlson, Vice President Mrs. John H. Cubbon and Treasurer Leet W. Bissell. Miss Florence Beard was chosen to be secretary. New member of the board of directors is Mrs. Ruth Galvin Thornburg, head librarian of Harrison Memorial Library.

HACIENDA CARMEL

The annual wildflower viewing trek is getting under way among residents of Hacienda Carmel. It is odd, according to the opinion of this comparably recent "immigrant," that the most avid fans are found among persons who have viewed this California phenomenon for 40, 50 and more years. Just goes to show what a treasure California has in its rural wildflower resource.

The Hacienda Carmel men's domino tournament was scheduled to get under way on Tuesday with qualifying rounds in Casa Fiesta. Finalists emerging from this contest were to lock horns in Casa Lobos today to determine the champion and runner-up. A number of beginners received "basic training" from qualified experts among the membership.

Activities in the field of art, crafts, modeling, woodcarving, sculpture, sewing, et cetera, have been spread around Hacienda Carmel by Mrs. Elizabeth Heath, activities chairman, through the use of Game and Gossip rooms as working and teaching headquarters. Where appropriate, carpeting has been provided and pertinent equipment and furnishings have been put into place.

Participants enjoy the privacy and intimacy of the small and comfortable areas set up for their use. The Craft Rooms in Casa Fiesta continue in use. The new movement simply reflects increasing interest in these creative activities.

FOREST HILL MANOR

On April 19, Mrs. Franklin Dunn of Carmel will give a book review of "Two Under the Indian Sun." Those interested in good music will enjoy the program tomorrow. Mrs. Kathleen Larson, using some of her special records from her extensive collection, will present Great Sacred Choruses and Vienna Choir Boys—music by Shubert and Brahms.

PIN POINT PROFILE

Carmel Mission

Harry Downie—Curator

The Carmel Mission we see today is really the seventh church of this famous mission, according to Harry Downie, curator, and in charge of the mission's restoration. Born in San Francisco, he became a cabinet maker in his early youth. When he came to Carmel, in 1931, he became interested in this historical landmark. Patiently he has searched for, and found, original drawings and records. Some have been retrieved from the national archives of Mexico. They had been taken there by some of the early padres. Checking and rechecking these accounts and then building on the original foundations has been a life-long occupation for Harry Downie.

The first Mission, founded by Father Serra in Monterey, was soon moved to Carmel in order to place it in a more tranquil environment. The adjacent fort at Monterey did not lend itself to the devotion, religious outlook and life of the neophytes. In the year 1771 Father Junipero Serra made Carmel his headquarters using a frail edifice made of wood and enclosed by a palisade of poles. Later, with the help of the Indians, this was replaced with an adobe structure.

After Father Serra's death, Padre Lasuen erected a stone church employing sandstone brought in from the Santa Lucia Mountains. The Mission was not always used as a parish church. However, Mass was always said on San Carlos Feast Day and the Indians would come in from long distances to attend.

In 1836, the Mission fell into ruins. Padre Real moved his residence to Monterey and took the church's statuary, altar decorations and pictures with him for safe keeping.

Years later, when Father Casanova came to the Mission, he undertook the task of saving it. One of the first things he did was to place a shingle roof over the main sanctuary. This did detract from the natural beauty—but it saved the Mission from complete deterioration.

It was Father Mestres who ordered the erection of the beautiful memorial to Father Serra and the priests who served with him in the early days. A local sculptor, Jo Mora, was given the task of doing this work.

Harry Downie says the Mission is still unfinished, but as funds become available the work of restoration will continue. Many of the other Missions in the central part of California have been restored under the guiding had of Harry Downie. Some of them are San Juan Bautista, Ventura Mission and San Luis Obispo.

CARMEL AIRMAN RECEIVES AWARDS

Airman Second Class Jerry A. Avis of Carmel, right, received double honors in graduation ceremonies on March 9 at the Defense Language Insitute, West Coast Branch.

The outstanding Airman received the Monterey Foundation Book Award which was presented by Mrs. Elmer Zanetta, left.

He also received the Association of the United States Army (AUSA) Award for his academic excellence in the Chinese-Mandarin language course. This is the highest award for officers and civilians, and second highest for enlisted personnel.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Avis of Carmel Valley, Airman Avis is a 1963 graduate of Carmel High School.

WHEN EASTER HAPPENS

The meaning of the Easter event is renewed when we begin to discover in ourselves the capacity for that "greater love" of which Jesus Christ spoke.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends," Jesus said (John 15:13). And his total willingness to do this opened to all mankind a new estimate of reality—brought resurrection, showed us a new and unending life.

Our readiness to learn what Jesus' words mean in our lives can begin to open to us this vast view.

His words are a call for the most penetrating kind of self-sacrifice—for a spiirtual devotion that overcomes human pride, fear, and selfishness in a triumph of divine Love.

It is literally a call to be born again. Can the "average" person accept this call, this self-surrender?

It is really inevitable. And we know this in the first stirrings of our own deepest spiritual intuition. It can happen in July on a city street, in a classroom, in an office. Easter comes when it happens in the heart.

Writing of the new birth, Mary Baker Eddy, the founder of Christian Science, said:

"It begins with moments, and goes on with years; moments of surrender to God, of childlike trust and joyful adoption of good; moments of self-abnegation, self-consecration, heaven-born hope, and spiritual love" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 15).

Our intuition grows into perception and understanding. Gradually, we gain the conviction that the lives of all men are ultimately bound together, in Truth. Then we begin to find the courage, strength, and intelligence we need to lay down our lives for each other, day by day—to sacrifice whatever is self-satisfied or self-seeking in our hearts, to break through the barriers of mortal ego.

Then Easter comes. And then we begin to see ourselves—and each other—in this new light.

For this is where the "greater love" leads—to clearer views of what is actual, to resurrection, to a life hat is new and to life that is endless.

Jesus said, "He that loseth his life for my sake shall find it" (Matt. 10:39).

ADVERTISE In The Pine Cone

The Complete Gardener

. . . a regular diet of information having to do with plants

OAK WORMS

Last year Central California's coastal area suffered one of the severest attacks of oakworms in recent years. The pattern was unique. Some sections were almost devastated, while others escaped with little or no damage. Some trees were hit by 4 or 5 flights of moths during the season. There is much yet to be learned about these insects. Right now we can rest somewhere between two schools of thought. The basic human instinct is to destroy these insects because they create a mess and make the oak trees unsightly. Some believe that their feeding is also detrimental to the health of the trees. The naturalist's view is that these insects serve a purpose by defoliating trees that would otherwise have difficulty in shedding old leaves. And somehow he sees this occurring at its height in seven-year cycles. Certainly we do know that the damage is more severe some years than others.

NOW FEEDING

Although the oak tree is its favorite host, the California oakworm also shows a liking for chestnut trees and eucalyptus. Right at this very moment there are two stages of this insect in the oaks. The immature caterpillars are now feeding on live oak foliage, and many more are still in the egg stage, waiting to be hatched. It is important to know the cyce this insect goes through so that we can combat it at the proper time.

THE CYCLE

The young worms will be nibbling the foliage right through the Spring. Then they get fat and lazy during the months of May and June. At that time they spin cocoons . . . whitish or yellowish bags that hang onto eaves, limbs, or the trunks of the trees. Then, about a month later (June or July) the moths come out of cocoons and get busy laying eggs for the summer brood. This hatch goes through the same cycle and new adult moths appear in October and November. There are three things you can do about oakworms. You can live with them and allow them to strip your trees. You can get the right materials and spray them. Or you can, especially if your trees are large or numerous, call in a commercial sprayer. If you decide to do it yourself, use a lead arsenate spray when the worms are small. DDT is more effective, but will also kill your predators. Spectradice is safer, but must be used oftener.

TENT CATERPILLAR

The oakworm should not be confused with the California tent caterpillar. This is the one that builds large webs in toyon, madrone, and many fruit trees, as well as oaks. If you find one of these tents, cut off that portion of the tree and burn the whole business. Then dust the ground underneath with sulphur to finish off the young caterpillars, and spray with DDT or lead arsenate.

Kinslow joined Crocker-Citizens in 1958 as a real estate loan interviewer at the bank's Anglo California office in San Francisco. He later served in the consumer loan departments at several Crocker-Citizens offices and from 1964 served as assistant manager of the bank's Mill Valley office.

Del Monte Expands Real Estate Activity

"The addition of Richard G. Dix to the real estate brokerage division of Del Monte Properties Company is part of a year's program to bring new, aggressive sales talent to the company's real estate activities," A. G. Michaud, president, commented on the announcement of Dix's appointment.

In the past year, Emile Bouhaben, and Rutledge Bray joined the company's real estate sales team The company now operates real estate sales offices at two locations at the Lodge shops, has opened an office at the Carmel gate, and now, with Dix, an office at the Pacific Grove gate.

"Del Monte plans to expand its real estate sales and brokerage activities throughout the Peninsula, operating actively in the sale of all properties as well as concentratir.g on the marketing of the company's own land," Michaud said.

Carmel Resident Directs 'South Pacific'

by Beverly Pelton

Harry Rudenshiold, head of the drama department at Seaside High School and a Carmel resident, is shown at left above busily engaged in his capacity as director of the Naval Postgraduate School's Little Theatre Spring musical production, "South Pacific," slated to open April 7 in King Hall. Shown with him are the two romantic leads, Joyce Koontz as Ensign Nellie Forbush and Larry Sparks, also a Carmel resident, as Emil deBecque.

Rudenshiold brings to the school's Little Theatre group a wide and diversified background of high school, college and community theatre productions, as well as World War II experience in the South Pacific as a member of the First Marine Division, for that ring of authenticity in staging this current production. During his many years in the Tucson, Arizona, area, he served as head of the English department and later, head of the drama department of a local high school. In connection with these positions, he edited a literary newspaper and wrote, directed and produced many original plays.

Harry was for several years connected, in a directorial capacity, with the Arizona Corral Theatre a summer community theatre-in-the-round, which features four productions of a highly professional calibre each summer. As though his summers were not busy enough, he also managed to serve as guest lecturer at the University of Arizona (where he earned his M.A. in drama), technical director for their three summer productions, and was four times selected as an "outstanding teacher" for the university's annual two-week high school fine arts summer session.

A visit to northern California four years ago, led Harry, his wife, Irene, and young son, Eric, to leave the desert air for the pine trees and rugged coastal beauty of Carmel.

They are thoroughly enchanted with their California home, says Irene, and constantly marvel at the number and variety of cultural offerings in an area of this size. Mrs. Rudenshiold's interest in theatre, music, art and dance stems from her childhood in New York City where she was encouraged by her family to visit the many museums, art galleries, ballet productions, plays and other cultural events constantly offered in that city. Tickets to the concerts of the New York Philharmonic were always available through her grandfather, who was for many years first chair violinist with this distinguished orchestra. Following a few years' rest, she is now looking forward to returning this fall to her former occupation as elementary school teacher. Eric is a high honors student at Carmel Middle School.

Harry has found time in Carmel for his hobby of photography and has outfitted a complete darkroom in his home. As might be expected, he has developed his interest in theatre photography to a high level of competence.

Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific" with Harry Rudenshiold as director, Richard Sheere choral director, and Dale Lefler as choreographer, will add one more feather to Harry's cap—or, with more than 90 plays to his credit, perhaps a ceremonial Arizona Indian headdress would be more apropos.

Henryk Szeryng Concert Tuesday

Distinguished violinist Henryk Szeryng will be heard in concert at Sunset Center auditorium on Tuesday at 8 p.m. under the auspices of the Carmel Music Society.

Born in Warsaw, Szeryng early won fame in his native land and then throughout Europe. With the coming of the World War II, the violinist devoted his time to playing for Polish, American, British and Canadian servicemen, giving over 300 concerts before the war's end. When peace came he settled in Mexico, a country he fell in love with on his first visit in 1941. He is now a Mexican citizen.

Szeryng has played from Indonesia, Angola and Mozambique to the leading concert halls of the western world. He is a familiar guest artist at major European music festivals. He has been a soloist with the Boston, Chicago and San Francisco symphonies. This year he will be heard with the New York Philharmonic in the world premiere of the Chavez Violin Concerto.

Celebrated conductors under whom he has performed include Bruno Walter, Sir Malcolm Sargent, Fritz Reiner, Carlos Chavez, Georg Solti, Paul Paray and Pierre Monteux.

Exhibition Rooms, Special Speakers For 1967 Home Show

Want to do over the living room? Get a clever idea for framing Aunt Martha's watercolor? Learn something about contemporary art? The 1967 Home Show will feature 22 exhibit rooms, decorated by top interior designers, and will have a three-day speakers' program as well. The event is slated for May 11-14 at the Monterey County Fairgrounds. Proceeds ($1 donation, each day) will further the work of the four local chapters of the Children's Home Society, which works on the adoption of homeless children.

The speakers' program will include subjects ranging from California cookery to the current trend of buying paintings as a financial investment. Experts in interior design will come from San Francisco to talk as well as local leaders in the decorating and art fields.

Exhibitors who will show decorated interiors are Baker's Interiors, Brinton's Carmel Rancho Hardware, Carmel Home Furnishings, Dorothy Constans A.I.D., Cutshall's Interiors (Salinas), Furniture Square, Roberta Hancock A.I.D., Marjorie Haynes A.I.D., Heirloom Galleries, Holman's, Frank Leker Home Furnishings, Mathewson's New England Shop, Mary May's, Packwood's (Salinas), J. C. Penney Co., Dee Robertson, Rudolph's, The Sarles (Salinas), Swan's, Tinsley Furniture. Members of the interior design class at Monterey Peninsula College will be assisted by Ted Rinker and the Anthony Petti firm of Salinas in assembling their exhibit room.

Pacific Telephone Makes Plans For Easter Long DistanceCalls

Pacific Telephone was making final plans today to handle another record volume of long distance calls on Easter Sunday, Dennis R. Mulkey, PT&T's local manager, told the Pine Cone.

"Even though we'll have all 79 operator positions filled during peak hours, we know there will be delays in getting an operator because of the heavy volume of calls," he said.

The Monterey central office, which handles long distance calls needing operator assistance for the Big Sur, Carmel, Carmel Valley, and Monterey exchanges, is one of the few areas in the state where weekend calling is heavier than during the week.

The main reason, Mulkey said, is Fort Ord, where lonely soldiers take advantage of low weekend rates to call home.

Unfortunately, heavy calling at Fort Ord often means delays in Carmel, especially on Easter Sunday.

This year, operators expect to handle 20,500 Easter Sunday calls. Last year's total hit 19,497.

Most of the calls are expected during evening hours, reaching a peak of 1,933 between 8-9 p.m.

In addition, Mulkey said other long distance calls that customers will be dialing direct will be up some 30 per cent.

Even though the company has increased its trunking facilities out of Carmel, the traffic may still jam available circuits during the evening hours.

To avoid unnecessary delays in making long distance calls this year, Mulkey offered a number of suggestions.

"If at all possible, call station-to-station and dial direct. It's faster and cheaper, and there's less chance of delay.

"And if you want to call on Easter Sunday, try to avoid the busy hours. Call in the morning or afternoon. Rates are the same all day Sunday now, so there's no advantage in calling after 9."

LOUNSBURY D. CASTLE

Lounsbury D. Castle, a resident of the Peninsula for the past 12 years, died on Sunday in a local hospital. His death, following an illness of two weeks, was unexpected although he had been under medical care.

A native of Shepardsville, Michigan, he was the son of the late Allen D. and Ada Castle. After attending high school in Traverse City, Michigan, he was graduated from the University of Michigan.

Mr. Castle was associated for two years with Acme Publishing Company of Detroit, then for the remaining years of his business career with H. J. Heinz Company and retired as manager of the Columbus, Ohio, branch.

Following his retirement in 1955, he came with his wife, Eleanor, to live in Pebble Beach for six years and since then in Carmel at Mountain View and Crespi Lane. Mr. Castle was a member of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club and was active in the Seniors Group.

In addition to his wife, survivors include a son, Andrew Wallace Castle of Mill Valley; two grandchildren, Scot Lounsbury and Cameron Castle, both of Mill Valley; a sister, Mrs. Charles E. Scott of Bredenton, Florida; a niece and four nephews.

Services were held on Tuesday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of the arrangements.

Friends wishing to make contributions in the memory of Mr. Castle may do so to Little Bits Chapter of the Children's Home Society, care of Mrs. Marilyn Aebersold, Route 3, Box 492, Carmel.

SAM MANNING

Samuel Edward Manning, portrait painter and Carmel resident for the past 20 years, died on Monday in a local hospital after a long period of failing health.

A native of Sacramento, Sam Manning was born on March 12, 1922. He grew up in San Francisco and during World War II, enrolled in the Merchant Marine Academy. Following graduation, he was commissioned an ensign in the Navy, serving through the war as a gunnery officer.

At the close of the war, he studied at the Art Students League in New York City. His first marriage, to Cynthia West, took place at this time. With his wife and daughter, Donna, he came to Carmel in 1948 and was elected to membership in the Carmel Art Association.

He spent 1953-54 traveling abroad and visited Italy, France and England. During this period, he increased his versatility as an artist.

The popularity of his oil portrait studies kept him busy fulfilling many important commissions such as his pictures of Bing and Kathy Crosby.

Sam Manning is survived by his bride of six months, the former Suzanne Miller, with whom he made his home at Dolores Street and Thirteenth Avenue; and his daughter, Donna, 16, of Carmel.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday in All Saints' Episcopal Church with the Reverend David Hill officiating. The Mission Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to make contributions in the memory of Sam Manning may do so to the Community Hospital Building Fund, Box HH, Carmel.

GEORGE WESTCOTT

George Howard Westcott, a well known Carmel building contractor, died on Sunday following a fall from a porch at his weekend home in Palo Colorado Canyon. Mr. Westcott apparently fell asleep while lying on the porch rail, rolled off and fell about six feet to the ground. He was pronounced dead at Community Hospital at 3:50 p.m.

A Carmel resident for the past 35 years, Mr. Westcott lived at Torres Street and Fifth Avenue. He was born on July 28, 1914, in Aitkin, Minnesota.

Mr. Westcott was an Army veteran of World War II and a member of Local 1325 of the Carpenters Union, the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department and the Monterey County Sheriff's Posse.

He is survived by his wife, Lelah V. Westcott of Carmel, a son, George E. Westcott of Carmel Valley; two daughters, Mrs. Denice Wharton of Santa Susanna, and Miss Judy Lee Westcott of Carmel; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Jan Winter of Santa Cruz; his mother, Mrs. Anna Westcott of Carmel; seven sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Bachman of Pacific Grove, Mrs. Mellie Beal, Mrs. Vernis Marcolli, and Mrs. Helen Bjornvold, all of Carmel, Mrs. Eleanor Hawkeswood of Monterey, Mrs. Doris O'Donovan of Del Rey Oaks and Mrs. Josephine Ryan of Wejzata, Minnesota; a brother, Larry Westcott of Pacific Grove; and six grand children.

Services were held on Wednesday at the Mission Mortuary with Reverend M. L. Kemper of the United Presbyterian Church, Salinas, officiating. Burial took place in the Mission Memorial Park.

GOP YOUTH LEADER

At the Michigan Federation of College Republicans' State Convention held in Grand Rapids, Michigan, Bruce A. Perry a former local resident and a graduate of Carmel High School, was elected chairman of Region I of the Michigan Federation of College Republicans. Region I consists of 37 counties in northern Michigan including the entire Upper Peninsula and 21 counties in the Lower Peninsula.

While he was attending Carmel High School Bruce was elected Mayor of Carmel for Youth-in-Government Day.

Bruce is now a pre-law student in the charter class of 1970 at Mackinac College in Michigan.

Dr. van Niel Awarded Nation's Oldest Prize In Field Of Science

A Carmel resident, Dr. Cornelis B. van Niel, before his retirement a member of Stanford's Hopkins Marine Station faculty and now professor of microbiology at the University of California, Santa Cruz, has been named co-winner with Dr. Robert Henry Dicke, professor of physics at Princeton University, of the Rumford Premium of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

The Rumford Premium is the oldest prize awarded in the field of science in the United States. It was established by Benjamin Thompson, Count Rumford, in 1796. The prize is given for the "most important discovery or useful improvement in heat or light made in any part of America." Winners of the award receive two identical medals, one struck from gold, the other from bronze, and $5,000.

A member of the National Academy of Sciences, Dr. van Niel received his D. Sc. degree from The Technological University, Delft, Holland. He has been both a Rockefeller and a Guggenheim Fellow and was presented the National Medal of Science by President Johnson in 1964 at ceremonies in the White House. In 1928 he was appointed associate professor of microbiology and in 1946 Herzstein professor of biology at Stanford University. Since 1964 he has been a visiting professor of microbiology at the University of California, Santa Cruz, and is assisting in the development of the curriculum for UCSC's Crown College, scheduled to open next fall.

Also a faculty fellow planning the academic course of Crown College is Dr. Lawrence R. Blinks of Rancho Aguajito, former director of the Hopkins Marine Station and a fellow faculty member of Dr. van Niel at Stanford University.

OCEAN VIEW LOT — $9,750

IN CARMEL HIGHLANDS, and a magnificent ocean view it is, too. At $9,750 and an ocean view, there has to be a catch, which is that while the price isn't steep (far from it!) the lot definitely is. If you're from Marin County, it may seem like a gentle slope; if you're from Arizona it will seem like a cliff. While it's a difficult site, it's far from an impossible one. Really, it's good value.

CARMEL — 2 BEDROOMS — PRIVATE — $28,500

A beautiful 2-car garage and a large paved patio go with this approximately 10-year-old 2-bedroom, 1-bath, beamed-ceiling living room home. A fine home at $28,500. Exclusive.

OCEAN VIEW ACRE LOT

In Rancho Mar Monte—convenient to ALL Peninsula cities—we have a wooded hillside acre with a Point Lobos view. This delightful lot is not hard to build on and it's priced to sell at $19,500. Exclusive.

SPECTACULAR OCEAN VIEW

Also a SPECTACULAR VALLEY VIEW, from this MOST ATTRACTIVE, 2-bedroom, 2-bath home practically at the top of Rancho Rio Vista. Family room with fireplace, SEPARATE DINING ROOM, double carport, large bedrooms, small den—really a choice property. $89,500. Exclusive.

CARMEL WOODS — OCEAN VIEW LOT

Near the top of the hill in Carmel Woods, we have a choice ocean view lot on the lower side of the street. Over 11,000 square feet. A good value at $20,000.

A NEW LISTING . . . SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

REFLECTING EARLY CALIFORNIA-CARMEL ARCHITECTURE, this property has a PRIME location . . . south of Ocean Avenue within easy walking distance to the beach. With a room arrangement on two levels the residence provides flexibility in usage:

1. An owner may choose to live full-time on the main floor with entry hall, living room facing west, bedroom, bath and compact kitchen with dining end. Income may be earned by renting the two rooms and bath on the lower level with its separate entry.
2. Or an owner may choose to live part-time in Carmel, reserving the lower suite for himself and leasing the main floor.
3. Or an owner may occupy the entire property, keeping the lower suite for study-hobby use or as guest quarters . . . there is an inside stairway.

Exterior design features a Monterey Colonial half balcony with rustic hand-hewn effect, a shake roof, mellow used-brick chimney and grapestake fencing. Two-car garage, two separate heating units with thermostats, and a pleasing hearth are other items of interest. An old twisted live oak adds to the charm in setting. The listing price of $35,000 is a realistic one that allows for a new owner to redecorate and add a deck. EXCLUSIVE LISTING.

The Drama of WATER!

WHILE FLOOD LIGHTS PLAY ON THE OCEAN SURF under your living room windows—exciting, beautiful, and COLD water!—step across the courtyard, beyond the waterfall, slide open the glass doors, and swim in a 30-foot heated pool. Then, if you're the "masters," slip into your own wing through a private door; shower in a huge, handsome white tiled bathroom-dressing room, enjoy the unusual view of the surf in the cove outside your bedroom, or delight in the little enclosed solarium, or watch TV, or adjust the music for the remote speaker system.

MEANWHILE, BACK TO THE GUESTS AND/OR THE CHILDREN—who have returned from the pool via a door to their own wing. Then, dinner in the dining room overlooking the surf, which dinner has been prepared in a wonderfully organized kitchen (so attractive it has been featured in national magazines), which also overlooks the sea.

WHILE THE FIRELIGHT GLOWS under its copper hood, enjoy your after-dinner coffee with the endless fascination of the sea as your incomparable "living" mural. Interesting house lighting compliments the floodlighted excitement of the waves outside (and you should see this view by moonlight with all the lights OFF!).

YES, THIS IS THE HOUSE for those who came to this area to take the waters—both to look at and to swim in. Located about six miles south of Carmel, it's most convenient to all the area's recreational attractions, too. The price is $147,500.

Two services of worship will mark the celebration of Easter at the Church of the Wayfarer on Sunday. They will be at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Easter music and flowers will be part of the observances and plans have been made to use the Garden Room if attendance exceeds the capacity of the sanctuary.

Carmel Presbyterian Church

There will be three Easter services at the Carmel Presbyterian Church, the first at 8 a.m., the second at 9:30, and the third at 11 o'clock. The minister, the Reverend Dr. George Hunter Hall, will preach on "The House of the Lord Forever." A special soloist, Mary Margaret Graham, soprano, will sing, at all services, "My Heart Ever Faithful" by J. S. Bach.

At the 8 o'clock service, the Bethlehem and Carol children's choirs will sing as an introit "Easter Call to Worship" by Grosvenor. Their anthems will include "Now the Green Blade Riseth," a French carol, and "We Will Be Merry" by Marryott. Their benediction response will be "Rejoice, Rejoice on Easter Day."

At the 9:30 and 11 o'clock services, the introit "Fanfare for Easter" by Pfautsch will feature the trumpets of Mrs. Leslie Stegeman and Greg Stegeman, and the trombone of Lt. William Hoffman. The youth Bell Choir will play "Were You There?" a spiritual. The Chancel Choir, under the direction of Mrs. James Farlinger, will sing "Christ the Lord Is Risen Again" by Vulpius, accompanied by the Bell Choir, also "Alleluia" by R. Thompson. Organ numbers will include "Jubilate Deo" by Loret, and "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell.

At the 9:30 service there will be Church School for three-year-olds and kindergarteners only, with other children attending church with their parents. A nursery is provided at all services for the care of infants and small children.

St. Philip's Lutheran

On Easter Sunday the Festival Service of Worship of St. Philip's Lutheran Church will begin at 10 a.m. in Carmel Middle School (Room C-14) where the congregation is holding its services until the completion of its building on the Carmel Valley Road. The theme of the Easter message by the Reverend J. Bernard Brethheim will be "Weeping or Believing at the Empty Tomb." The Easter choir anthem under the direction of Mrs. John Wolff will be "As It Began To Dawn" by Charles Vincent. Mrs. Bretheim will accompany the choir on the organ.

Church School classes will begin at 11:10 a.m. following a coffee time. This Sunday the classes will conclude as usual at 11.40 o'clock.

Community Church

On Easter Sunday the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula will worship for the first time in their new church building on Carmel Valley Road. For three and a half years of the existence of this young church, they have had to use other quarters in and around Carmel. Now they are headed home.

Regular Easter services will be held on Easter Day with special music by the choir and a sermon on "The Messiah" by the Reverend Burkert Cree. The youth of the church will also hold their traditional sunrise service at 6 o'clock Easter Sunday morning.

Portola Cross

tous coast beyond that Portola turned north and reached San Francisco Bay.

On his return in December he again camped at San Jose Creek, a source of good water. Members of the expedition were suffering from scurvey and lack of provisions. An expected supply ship had not arrived from San Diego. Portola decided to keep marching south and left Carmel Bay on December 9, 1769.

That morning, he had a cross erected at the mouth of the Carmel River. The cross, was a signal for the supply ship and on it was placed a message saying to dig at the base of the cross and find a bottle which contained a message. The message was that the Portola expedition was returning to San Diego and a shot from shore would signify the ship was to stop and succor the starving and suffering group.

Then Portola, Padre Crespi and other members of the expedition retraced their route, leaving at the mouth of Carmel River their symbol of Christianity.

On the 175th anniversary of the planting of the cross by Portola, the cross in the picture was erected through the efforts of Harry Downie, curator and restorer of Carmel Mission Basilica. He established the exact site by reading Padre Crespi's diary.

Letter To Editor

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

In view of the fact that the Carmel Unified School District will have more than adequate operating funds for the next five years and because I have been advised to reduce strenuous outside activity, I hereby withdraw my name as a candidate for the Carmel Unified School District Board.

It is my intent to work for the election of Curtis A. Pringle to the school board since I feel strongly that his dual experience in financial management and education gives him the highest qualifications for the job. I wish to urge those people who desired to see me elected to support the candidacy of Curtis A. Pringle.

On behalf of the Board of Education of the Carmel Unified School District, I wish to express our appreciation for the very fine personal support you gave to the district's override tax issue. Without people such as you, the district would not have been successful.

Again, many thanks.

Sincerely,
Harris A. Taylor
Secretary

On behalf of the Carmel High School student body, I would like to thank all those voters who helped pass the much needed override tax bond on March 7. We know that the voters won't regret the small tax increase, as it will help make it possible for Carmel students to obtain a better education in the future.

We would also like to thank this publication for all its help and support during the campaign, without which our small efforts would have been in vain.

Sincerely,
Diane Davis
Student Body Secretary

PLANNER RESIGNS

The resignation of Vice Chairman Glenn Leidig, to be effective following the meeting, was accepted with regret by other planning commissioners yesterday afternoon. Leidig's letter of resignation to the city council and the commission stated that his job and other commitments no longer allowed him to work effectively on the commission. He is the postmaster at the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School.

Chairman Dorothy von Meier appointed William H. Godwin Jr. to replace Leidig as vice chairman and George Willox to take Leidig's place as the Carmel planning commission representative to the area planning commission.

Business Association Meeting On Parking

Newly elected president August Johnson presided, for the first time, over a general business and dinner meeting of the Carmel Business Association last Thursday night at the Carmel Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. William Arley Smith, former councilwoman now a member of Councilman William Sefton's parking committee, carried a message expressing the thoughts of that committee to the more than 100 members present. She pointed out that historically customers desert business areas that do not provide adequate parking and that this could happen to Carmel.

Fire Chief Don Gasperson of Pacific Grove talked on modern fire fighting equipment and provided a film showing new snorkel equipment in his department's inventory but available in emergencies covered by an inter-community fire equipment and fire fighting agreement.

Carmel's acting fire chief, James R. Belvail, was the final speaker. He pointed out that the citizens of Carmel have a well organized fire department, too.
